BEAVER VALLEY SUBDIVISION

Council passed a motion to extend the draft approval for the Beaver Valley subdivision for a further five years to 2025. Council heard that "the scope has been significantly reduced," said Michael Benner, Director of Planning and Building. The development group has not provided any information on their plans for an open space but Benner stated that there are strong environmental constraints on this land and he does not believe it will be developed.

The project includes two phases. Phase one has seven lots that will be developed first and a test well will be monitored for three years before a decision to move forward with phase two can be made. Phase two will include 9 lots according to the revised plan.
